J. PIERPONT MORGAN, able son of an able father, proves to younger men in his office that if you understand salesmanship you can sell even in a depression.

Five paintings for $15,000,000 is good salesmanship; $15,000 an acre for country real estate on Long Island is a good price, and no doubt Mr. Morgan will get it, for the land that he has put on the market, right at the edge of the water, is good real estate.

The latest news is that Mr. Morgan ordered valuable old miniatures, small paintings on ivory, sold at auction in London, expected price about $1,000,000.

Business men, who have not been able to sell much of anything for several years, contemplate Mr. Morgan's salesmanship respectfully, and, wondering, ask themselves WHY and HOW. The reasons for the selling interest many.

Everybody knows that Mr. Morgan is not in need of money. That does not happen in his family.

Business asks: "Does Mr. Morgan think the world is coming to an end?" Surely not.

"Does he take Senator Huey Long and his Share the Wealth program seriously?" Senator Long would hardly insist on sharing old paintings, ancient miniatures, Long Island north shore real estate. Such things are not "wealth," in the senator's opinion. He would call them "tricks."

Does Mr. Morgan feel that in these doubtful days of uncertainty the wise man should have wealth in cash, easily moved, easily hidden? Hardly, for who knows what the market will be worth next week or next year. Real estate and miniatures will always be worth something.

Would Mr. Morgan change his money into gold in some foreign country where gold can still be bought? That might be a good idea, but what about "no interest on the money?"

At the race track, when somebody rushes into the betting ring betting heavily on a certain horse, at the last moment, bookmakers say "he must think he knows something."

Men with admiration for J. Pierpont Morgan's business ability, say: "He must know something." He probably does.

Triplets are born in New York to a mother five feet high with four other children. Father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Rean, are proud of their Jen, Joan and Jane.

Problems face the two little boys, and their brother, born in season. They must have human mother's milk, and enough for sympathy for the mother. The hospitals "break milk" and in exhausted. The father has been out of work for three years.

Three ways if you can, the triplets do not have the right food they may not survive.

This should interest mothers that "can't be bothered with nursing children." Modern artificial foods are well prepared, but what about your baby if you can't get a triplet baby to suckle?

John's Hospital, New York. Their four elders, a ten-year-old child and three sisters, are anxious to have them at home.

British medical men declare positively that "drinking milk within two hours after eating meat is highly detrimental to the digestive system." Mors could have told them that long ago. His rules allow no milk with meat. The little boy, finding you to "beecher" or otherwise cook a kid in its mother's milk, was inclined to protect those that eat the meat, and does not merely express sympathy for the mother.

Milk, a most valuable food, should be taken with care, to old age, but not with meat.

On an island in the Pearl river, inhabitants of a Chinese fishing village dreaded and disliked a small settlement where twenty-four lepers lived nearby. A dispatch from the Chinese government says the lepers have solved their problem by a massacre of the twenty-four lepers. The lepers followed by the destruction and burning of their settlement.

CASSIDY 'Will Listen TO ALL'

NEW RACE HEAD TELLS STAND

"Everything in the open... Everybody will know what we propose to do... People will be given a chance to object."

That is the policy of Thomas F. Cassidy who, according to announcement by telephone from Miami today by Governor Curley, will be the new racing commission chairman.

Cassidy, who is 69 and lives in Cheshire, is a former state senator—'shelved' by the Democratic party years ago to make way for the advancement of David I. Walsh.

He has been a Curley Democrat for years.

Cassidy is to replace General Charles H. Cole, whose resignation as chairman was received at the Governor's office today.

Taking cognizance of the storm of protests from Cambridge, South Boston, Dighton and Methuen—where residents were surprised to learn dog licenses had been awarded—Cassidy promised full public hearings before any more licenses—bore or dog—were granted.

This should interest mothers that "can't be bothered with nursing children." Modern artificial foods are well prepared, but what about your baby if you can't get a triplet baby to suckle?

That shocks us now, but such barbarity was once the rule. People of the old world were more cruel than we are today. In primitive days, crippled children were destroyed, delicate children were purposely exposed to hardships that they could not survive, which meant, destroying the finest brains. A child with a well developed brain is often most delicate.

Women Hurt Aboard Ship

Gale Tosses Bermuda Liner at Sea

Two injured women were carried from the steamer Lady Somers at Commonwealth Pier today.

A male passenger said he was involved for the first time in an hour of terror aboard the ship yesterday as it returned from a Bermuda cruise.

Miss Alice V. McDonough of 275 LaGrange street, West Roxbury, was taken to Charlestown Hospital.

Mrs. Willard Luther of Cambridge was taken to her home. An injured sailor was treated aboard ship.

Both women were cut by heavy glass shattered from portholes when a gale hit the ship's portside yesterday.

McDonough required 14 stitches in her head, face and neck. Mrs. Luther was given four stitches by the ship's doctor. Scores of other passengers were shaken up.

McDonough said she was thrown from the port to starboard of the ship's deck yesterday when the gale rocked the vessel.

LINDY Ransom Here PROBED

TWO $10 BILLS FROM AIRPORT

Despite denial by federal authorities, two Lindbergh ransom notes were passed in Boston last week, it was announced today at the New York office of American Airlines, Inc., according to an Associated Press dispatch.

The bills, one $10 and one $20 bill—certificates, are believed to have been accepted at the Boston uptown branch of the airport transport company for passage of two persons on a Boston-New York plane out of East Boston airport one day last week.

Federal officials, who deny knowing anything about them, have received the bills, according to one report.

Presumably, behind the curtain of denial, a thorough Department of Justice investigation is in progress.

At the New York office of American Airlines, it was said that government agents had been furnished with a list of all passengers out of Boston between Saturday and Monday.

Details Guarded

John F. Wheelock, local passenger traffic manager of the company, said he was notified by a teller of the State Street Trust Company that two bills contained in a company deposit last Saturday had been turned over to the Department of Justice.

He said he was not informed why, and that he did not know they were Lindbergh ransom bills. At the Federal building, it was learned that two department of justice special agents from Boston arrived here last week to investigate the passing of ransom money.

David E. Hersey, vice-president of the State Street Company, said he did not believe the gold certificates were ransom money.

He said a teller had discovered them in the air company deposit box at the State Street Trust Company, but they had been cleared through the Federal Reserve Bank on Monday and no inquiry regarding their source had been made.

RUTH On Air TODAY

REVEALS PLANS FROM TRAIN

Tune in on Babe Ruth WBZ-WBZA—at 5:15 today.

The Big Bam, speeding from New York to Boston to sign with the Braves, will extend his first greetings to New England fans from a radio interview broadcast from the Yankee Clipper express under auspices of the Boston Evening American this afternoon.

While the train leaves Boston's beloved prodigal back to the scenes of his first major league game, Babe will tell New England fans about his three-year contract with the Braves, his management plans with Bill McKee and his playing hopes.

On the program with Ruth will be Judge Emil Furber, president of the Braves; Jack Conway, Boston Evening American sports editor; John McNamara of the NBC staff; and Newman P. Thompson, Boston American radio editor.

The New Haven Railroad's crack flyer will probably be somewhere between Providence and Boston when the Babe says his first husky "Hello," but his voice will be received by every radio tuned to WBZ-WBZA.

Hear the Babe—at 5:15.

'Other Man' Admits 'Swap'

Behind this and similar developments was seen the strong influence of Dr. Julius Schacht, minister of economics, who in fighting Germany's terrible economic battle cannot risk further boycotts and loss in bills of exchange.

He accused the president of the Berlin Merchants' Association yesterday that "nothing further will happen to any member of your organization." Many of whom are Jews.

In the light of these declarations added importance was attached to the remarks on the Jewish question uttered by Julius Lippert, state commissioner for the metropolitan area for the American Chamber of Commerce.

Lippert denied that Jewish merchandise were being boycotted with aid and abet.

He said the law forbids his citing duties, he enjoys the same business rights as other citizens."

Taunton, Mass., Feb. 23.—Senator Huey P. Long announced today that he would be a candidate for Governor in 1936.

Long made the statement in the House of Representatives in a special session, was rushing toward final passage a new batch of bills he dumped in the legislative boiler Tuesday.

NAZIS Fear Trade LOSS

ANTI-SEMITISM BAN LIFTED

Copyright, 1933, by the Associated Press.

Berlin, Feb. 23.—Intense economic pressure, it became apparent today, has forced Reichsfuehrer Hitler to abandon, for the present at least, the public manifestations of his cherished anti-Semitism policy.

This tendency was indicated definitely in the remarks of speakers at a meeting of political leaders and Nazi members in which the Reich's economic problems were discussed.

While breasting Jews as "vampires and exploiters" speakers concluded their addresses by saying: "It may be asked of you why the administration is not doing anything more against the Jews. It cannot, for foreign political reasons, since further boycotts, foreign exchange difficulties and other troubles are thereby threatened."

Therefore, you must go about and spread what you have been told here and act accordingly."

NRA'S Doom Faces APPEAL

NEW DEAL WILL FIGHT RULING

By Associated Press.
Washington, Feb. 28.—The new deal marshaled its legal forces today to ward off a blow which—if it should gain the added strength of Supreme Court approval—would topple much of NRA's vast structure into the dust.

The blow was the opinion announced by Federal Judge John P. Nields of Delaware yesterday that the Constitution did not confer upon Congress the power to regulate manufacture.

It was reinforced by the ruling of Federal Judge Charles J. Dawson at Lancaster, Pa., yesterday that coal mining is an interstate business beyond the regulatory power of Congress. Therefore the National Industrial Recovery Act as applied to coal is unconstitutional.

U. S. to Appeal

Mean of the New Deal is based on the idea that if a business or industry is engaged in interstate commerce Congress can regulate it. But that law now stands at a disadvantage. Judge Nields flat statement that manufacture is not subject to such regulation.

In the course of an opinion in which he held section 7 of NIRA unconstitutional as applied to the Western Steel Company, he said Supreme Court rulings demonstrated that "the Constitution did not give to Congress the power to regulate manufacture."

The government plans an immediate appeal from Judge Dawson's decision. It did not announce the plan on Judge Nields' ruling, but Blackwell Smith, counsel for the Recovery Administration, left no doubt in observers' minds that it would combat the idea expressed by the Delaware judge.

TRUCK STRIKERS Win Pay Increase

Worcester, Feb. 28.—After a night of violence and riotous conduct, a strike of 50 drivers for wholesale grocery houses was settled today.

PHONE Calls Hit 'PRINCE'

INTENDED TO SHOW FRAMEUP

By Associated Press.
New York, Feb. 28.—Mrs. Wilma E. Gould, who accuses "Prince Michael Romanoff" of "framing" her to give divorce evidence to her husband, plagued him today with telephone slips.

The slips, charged to a room occupied by Prince Mike at the Hotel Savoy-Plaza, were offered to a jury as evidence that the bogus prince was in communication with the men Mrs. Gould names in her $500,000 damage action.

Mike's role, Mrs. Gould says, was that he dragged her, took her to a party, and then she was admitted a riding party led by her husband, Edward Gould, Seneca, N. Y., manufacturer.

In her conspiracy action, Mrs. Gould names her mother-in-law, former Representative Norman J. Gould, a lawyer, and Gerard Lohr, head of a detective agency.

Evidence offered in the telephone slips purported to show that "Prince Mike" had been in communication with the offices of both Knott and Lohr during the days he was paying most audacious court to Mrs. Gould.

Call Raid Night

One slip recorded a call made from the room occupied by Prince Mike—whose real name is Harry Gersgorn—at 10:41 p. m. of Feb. 10, 1934, the night Gould and others burst in upon him and Mrs. Gould.

This, and other slips, were identified by Helen Roach, supervisor of telephone operators at the Savoy-Plaza.

Henry A. Terhart, Mrs. Gould's counsel, also read to the jury the reports on slips recording calls to the hotel agency.

Terhart read the report of a call made from Mike's room to the Hotel Roosevelt sometime between midnight of Feb. 10 and 7:00 a. m. of Feb. 11. Terhart said he will prove that Norman J. Gould was registered at the Roosevelt at that time.

In Cab at Time

Terhart said he will show that Mrs. Gould waited in a taxicab, yielding to the drug, outside the Savoy-Plaza while Gersgorn made the call at 10:41. They were en route to the rendezvous where Mrs. Gould was later found together, he said.

Prince Mike, whose strident toward the whole proceedings has been one of pronounced boredom, spends very little time in the courtroom. He showed up today, but directly upon seeing the nature of the testimony he hastily withdrew.

Western Ponzi Jailed

By International News Service.
Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 28.—A Ponzi scheme, which lured country people at Pittsville, Wis., was found guilty by a federal court jury here today on 14 counts of using the mails to defraud.

Judge P. A. Geiger sentenced Hocking to 15 years' imprisonment in Leavenworth penitentiary and fined him $10,000. His attorney after a new trial was denied, announced they would appeal.

The verdict was the climax to Hocking's mythical cable business in which he obtained more than $2,000,000 before it collapsed in September, 1929.

Operating along lines similar to those of Charles Ponzi of Boston, Hocking paid investors interest ranging from 20 to 52 per cent in what he claimed were transactions in "treasures" or discarded cigars. Investors throughout the country were attracted.

SABOTAGE Charged by WILEY POST

By Associated Press.
Kansas City, Feb. 28.—Wiley Post charged today that nearly two pounds of steel filings and powdered emery were placed in the engine of his airplane, probably at the instigation of "another pilot," to cause the failure of his recent projected transatlantic flight across the continent.

Post, after enroute to New York, did not name the pilot, but said he had enough evidence of the alleged sabotage to convince him the foreign matter was placed in the engine of the Winnie May deliberately.

The Oklahoma man said the saboteurs caused the engine to overheat dangerously after he had been in the air less than 50 hours. He made a forced landing, with a full load of gasoline and without landing gear, in the bed of Medicine River in California.

"Laboratory tests disclosed the presence of the emery and filings in the oil," Post said, referring to an investigation now underway in Los Angeles.

'PINK SLIP' LAW REPEAL STARTED

By Universal Service
Washington, Feb. 28.—The Senate and House hearings on proposals to abandon the "pink slip" publicity features in income tax returns have today been arranged.

The Senate finance committee decided to name a subcommittee to meet with the House ways and means committee to discuss the legislation.

Senator Harrison of Mississippi, chairman of the committee, named Cossens (R) of Michigan, King (D) of Utah, George (D) of Georgia, Walsh (D) of Massachusetts, Keyes (R) of New Hampshire, and La Follette (D) of Wisconsin.

Under present law, pink slips attached to income tax returns may be publicly inspected. They reveal the amount of income, the amount of tax, the credit exemption and the tax paid.

The provision has led to a nationwide revolt on the ground that it not only violates the desire of taxpayers to keep their affairs private, but also gives the government a means to select victims financially to meet their demands.

The already overburdened taxpayers are particularly resentful of this provision. It not only makes them victims of blackmail, kidnappers, racketeers, but also opens the way for snooping neighbors and business competitors to scrutinize their affairs, but obviously assumes that the average American is dishonest.

The small taxpayer, even more than the large, strenuously protests having his earnings paraded before the thousands in his neighborhood and against a law which makes him the prey of snoopers and extortion of worthless certificates.

New York, Feb. 28 (U.S.)—Louis C. Comstock, president of the Merchants association, today lashed the "pink slip" provision of the income tax law. He charged: "Experience with a publicity section in the revenue act of 1923 showed that such publicity produced little or no inhibition of value to the tax authorities."

On the other hand, such publicity furnishes material for sniping for the satisfaction of idle curiosity, and what is far worse, material for the use of scoundrels, sharpers and other criminals.

SEWELL ADMITS "WIFE EXCHANGE"

By Universal Service
Los Angeles, Feb. 28.—New sensations were injected into the "wife trade" divorce suit of Walter W. Emerson, actor-writer, here when the correspondent in the action, Barton Sewell, millionaire yachtsman, was recalled to the witness stand in Superior Judge Ben B. Lindsey's court.

Sewell stated that: "The affair" with Mrs. Jane Emerson had not been "disrupted" by the filing of her husband's divorce suit.

Emerson had twice lost his sanction to his love.

Emerson had told him in Ketchikan, Alaska, that Mrs. Emerson intended to divorce him upon their return to the United States because she had "learned of his affair in New York."

The witness was asked by Emerson's attorney: "Were you serious in your love-making to Mrs. Emerson?" "I was very serious."

The yachtsman was then questioned about the midnight raid upon Emerson's home when Sewell was discovered in a bedroom with Mrs. Emerson. He declared the events that transpired were substantially the same as testified to by previous witnesses.

He also admitted participation in the alleged "wife exchange" incident at Mrs. Sewell's beach home last November 3.

He said details of this event had also been previously related correctly.

"Did you ever tell your wife of your affair with Mrs. Emerson?" Sewell said he had not.

Mrs. Blanche Scholz, mother of Mrs. Emerson, presided over the witness stand and told the jury she had supplied her daughter and son-in-law with funds for many years. She said she had known her daughter was in love with Sewell, but had not been aware they were carrying on an affair.

TEACHER "Oath Bill" FAVORED

HEARING HELD AT STATE HOUSE

A favorable committee report on a bill requiring teachers to take an oath of allegiance seemed assured at a State House hearing today.

Questions asked by members of the education committee indicated their stand.

The hearing was replete with clashes in which opponents of the measure were shouted down. They responded with cries of "free speech."

Representative Thomas Dorgan of Dorchester, author of the bill, was loudly cheered. He based his arguments for the bill on an editorial which appeared in today's Boston Evening American.

The bill would make unlawful the employment of any teacher, instructor or professor in any school system or in any school, college, university or institution of the state until they have sworn to uphold the Constitution.

Oath Required

Following is the oath or affirmation, which the bill would require:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the constitution of the United States of America and the constitution of the state of Massachusetts; and that I will faithfully discharge according to the best of my ability, the duties of the position (title of position and name of institution) of which I am now (or hereinafter) employed."

Robert J. Watt, legislative agent of the state branch of the American Federation of Labor, surprised the committee, when he appeared in opposition to the bill. He stated that the bill would deprive the committee of its right to recommend for the bill.

CURLEY'S AIDS

In Lost Boy Hunt

Governor Curley's aid today entered into the search for Robert Mythen, 16, of Cottage avenue, Winthrop, who disappeared on Monday night Christmas Eve, after singing carols.

Secretary Richard Grant asked Boston police for all information concerning the youth, after his mother, Mrs. William J. Mythen, made an appeal for state aid. State detectives and police are expected to join the search.

Fear for the safety of another Winthrop boy, missing since Monday, was alleviated when his father, Everett S. Avery, Boston attorney, received a letter from him. He is believed to be visiting friends at a CCC camp in the western part of the state.

N. E. EQUITY

In Larger Quarters

The New England Equity Corporation, which has been operating a loan business for 12 years, has outgrown its present location and has moved in the same Dexter Building to larger quarters.

Mr. S. Specht will continue to be its manager. The new location is the third floor of the Dexter Building.

EVERETT MAYOR

Bars Dog Racing

There will be no dog racing tracks in Everett, Mayor James A. Roche announced today. He said he would refuse to issue any permit for the establishment of such a plant.

Repeated reports indicated that promoters had decided on Everett as the site of a track.

Coroner's Jury Probes Death

The coroner's jury today sought further light on the strange death of Mrs. H. Bradley Davidson, Jr., 22, adopted daughter of E. M. Statler, owner of the Statler Hotel, and Radcliffe graduate.

Stumped under the steering wheel of her car, the bride of less than two months was found unconscious by a servant at the Davidson's winter home when he opened the door of the garage yesterday.

The coroner's jury, making an investigation from which the public was excluded, was told by Dr. M. W. Marx, attending physician, carbon monoxide poisoning was the immediate cause of death.

Davidson, testifying at the inquest, said he and his wife occupied separate rooms. He said she wore sport clothes when found by servants and that she was in the habit of going for early morning drives when she was unable to sleep.

Other evidence at the inquest was to the effect that the motorist's car was off when the body was found, but that the motor had been choked.

No verdict was rendered, however, and the inquest was recessed until today.

STATLER Heiress Death STILL MYSTERY

Pinehurst, N. C., Feb. 28.—Pursuing its investigation with secrecy, a coroner's jury today sought further light on the strange death of Mrs. H. Bradley Davidson, Jr., 22, adopted daughter of E. M. Statler, owner of the Statler Hotel, and Radcliffe graduate.

500,000 Japanese in U. S. ARM

HOUSE TOLD BY KNABENSHUE

By Associated Press

Washington, Feb. 28.—Testimony that there are half a million armed Japanese in the United States was given the House patents committee today by Roy W. Knabenshue, veteran balloonist.

After repeating his contention that sabotage had something to do with destruction of the navy's airships, Akron and Macon, Knabenshue asserted it was "common knowledge on the coast" that there are 500,000 armed Japanese in the country, chiefly on the coast and in Hawaii.

Asked by committee members whether he had any concrete evidence as to armed Japanese, Knabenshue asserted he had no information except that given him by friends. He said he never had seen an armed Japanese.

Chairman Sirovich asked whether he knew Japanese colonies had been set up in Central and South America that could move against the Panama Canal and destroy it in time of emergency.

Spy in Capital

That also is common knowledge to the coast, the witness said. Sirovich said it was "common sense" in chambers that many Japanese and Oriental drive taxis in Washington and listen to conversation when they go to the State, War and Navy Building.

He added that the House Merchant Marine Committee had been told that hundreds of Japanese fishing vessels had obtained soundings and other information off the Alaskan coast.

Japanese come to the United States not alone for economic reasons, Knabenshue testified, but to "base what they can" and communicate back to Japan.

He agreed with Sirovich there were "thousands of Axis air warships" who might engage in sabotage in time of emergency. Sirovich suggested attempts might be made to destroy the Panama Canal.

He said the point to consider in the Akron disaster was that the airship had passed through "very turbulent weather" and didn't break up but that when it was breaking, home in comparatively calm weather it went to pieces.

Mrs. Ruth Is Boss of Mighty 'Bam'

By Associated Press

New York, Feb. 28.—Mrs. Babe Ruth said today that if the Babe becomes manager of the Boston Braves next year "he can handle the job all right."

She said: "I ought to know. I've seen him play for 13 years."

Mrs. Ruth was beside Babe when he left for Boston to sign his contract with the Braves.

Mrs. Ruth smiled over the gasp on her milk coat and said: "He's a better player than anywhere else. I had to go along, and I'll go on the road with the Braves. He gets absolutely no rest unless I do, and I have to watch his food. I do the marketing personally every day."

The Babe's wife also is his secretary and accountant, and goes to all the games. She declared: "I still think the greatest moment of his life was when he hit the pitch over the fence for the Yankees in the 1925 World Series."

The fellow said he was going to strike him out, and Babe said: "Over the fence."

She said she wouldn't mind the welcome Boston had planned, after the jam at Tokyo, when 500,000 Americans milled at the station—"It's a wonder we weren't killed."

When the Braves play at home, Mrs. Ruth will be in Boston, but they will keep their New York homes. Their two daughters, Julia and Dorothy, will stay in New York with their grandmothers.

Julia, a pretty 15-year-old blonde in black with her hair, came to the station to see Babe off.

G. A. R. WOULD Give Up Quarters

Depleted ranks of the G. A. R. in Lynn caused the commander of the General Landers Post 5 to ask the city to take control of its headquarters.

Gas Hearing Delayed

Hearing for a reduction in the rates of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, scheduled for today at the State House on the petition of Mayne Mansfield, was postponed until March 3 by agreement of counsel.

Freed in $900 Theft

John R. Hansen, 29, of Summit avenue, Brighton, was today found not guilty in municipal court of stealing a pocketbook containing $900 from Miss Mabel Cobb, Newbury street bookstore proprietor. City Treasurer Howard W. Cutler of Waltham testified in behalf of Hansen.

BABE RUTH On Way Here CHEERED IN N. Y.

His ovation. The big slugger said: "Gee, it's tough to leave here. But it's also great to be going to a town where I have so many friends as I have in Boston. You know, I started up there and I've always liked the town."

The Babe said he got light on the food at a banquet in his honor tonight. He declared:

"Guess Bill McKeebine would turn me right out of the Braves' camp if I put on any more weight."

Ruth expects to return to New York tomorrow and then leave for St. Petersburg, Fla.

The vivacious Mrs. Ruth said the Braves would continue to occupy the 12-room apartment here, she said.

"You know, we have a house here and I'll be a change for the Babe to get some good home cooking when he comes here with the Braves to play the Giants and Dodgers."

Although declining to be quoted further, Ruth said he stood by his statement of yesterday that he had a verbal understanding with Judge James F. Russell, president of the Braves, to take over active management of the club from McKeebine next year. This year Ruth will act as McKeebine's assistant.

New Movie Treat Planned For Children

By BETTY ALDEN

THE OTHER DAY, after we pictured a society editor as a little winter bird flitting about looking for news we were greeted on a number of occasions with the question "How's the little bird?" so now it is with fear and trembling that we write the following bit of news mentioning a movie called the "Wise Little Hen" . . .

Society's very young have received bids from Mrs. William Stanley Parker to the "Merry Movies" . . . a new series of entertainments for children to be held on successive Saturdays between March 9 and April 6 . . .

Along with "Old King Cole," "Touchdown Mickey," "Sliver McTimbers," the "Kendall Kings," "Campus Hoover" and the "Pie Covered Pup," the "Wise Little Hen" will be shown for the delight of the little tots, at the continuous program in the Repertory Theater on these Saturdays . . .

Miss Eleanor Brigham of River street is the person to whom to apply for tickets for the "Merry Movies" . . .

Many at Musicales

MUSIC, FASHIONS AND the Matinee were on the social program of Back Bay yesterday . . . society turned out bright and early for the fifth Morning Musicales at the Starline . . . (and there will be a sixth on March 13 . . .)

The more conservative Bostonians present were deeply pleased with the calm and poised stage personality of Dusolina Glanini, who sang her beautiful program through with a pleasing lack of dramatic gestures . . . she indulged in one professional flourish however, when, in one fell swoop, she picked up the long train of her crimson velvet gown, folded it over her wrist and made her exit, carrying that lovely train which surely she can afford to allow to trail regally behind her . . .

Aided by her tiny gold opera glasses, Mrs. George Payson Carver, Jr., who comes in from Uchridge for every musicale, didn't miss a trick of the "cellist Platiorsky's" masterful technique of fingering or bowing and she had a decided advantage in scrutinizing the antique gold locket and chain which the diva wore . . . her only jewelry . . . Mrs. Carver was accompanied by Mrs. Gordon Holt of Beverly . . .

All the familiar Musicales names were in their accustomed seats . . . Mrs. Constock, Mrs. Whittington, Mrs. Jamieson, Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Whitall, Mrs. Black . . .

A group of Worcester celebrities who were noted in the gathering included Mrs. Edward L. Smith, Mrs. C. Clavin Young, Mrs. Henry Hooker Forbes and Mrs. Philip Coe . . .

Mrs. Howard Plimpton Entertains

MISS NINA NIGHTINGALE came down from Jaffrey, N. H., to take in the concert and a few small parties including Mrs. Howard Plimpton's luncheon yesterday at the Algonquin Club . . . Mrs. John W. Myers, Mrs. Henry P. Kendall, Miss Elizabeth Carter Leland, and Mrs. Ernest T. Clary were among Mrs. Plimpton's friends who had both the concert and luncheon in their program for the first half of the day . . .

Very special celebrities were Mrs. George Kousa wisky, with her sister, Miss Olga Noumoff, and Miss T. Ouchkoff, who attended as the guests of Mr. Platiorsky . . .

Fashion Show at the Touraine

MRS. AUGUSTUS L. PUTNAM, Mrs. Roger Cutler, Miss Rose Dexter, Mrs. Frederick Holder who has just returned from her vacation on the banks of the Nile, Mrs. Wilman E. Adams, Mrs. Frank Spear, and Mrs. William Emerson Barrett were others encountered at the concert . . .

Fashions were served with luncheon at the Touraine where a hazy dozen society matrons paraded street and evening clothes for early spring . . .

The styles mount more than just spring fashions to Nancy Whitman who modelled them and to her mother, Mrs. Chastield Whitman, who, Mrs. John W. Lawrence maintains the shop where they may be purchased . . . Nancy has her eye on possible trousseau clothes to be packed in her honeymoon trunk in June and her mother is putting to practical use the training she received at the Vale School of Dramatic Art by staging one of the most artistic show models by offering the best and most original designs that can be had at a price within reach of the reduced incomes of her friends . . .

Starched Organdie Dancing Frock

with such aplomb . . . Mrs. Henry Murray with her daughter and Mrs. Russell Burrage with Kittle Burrage Clark were in the mother and daughter parties . . . Mrs. Royden Loring was one of the attentive observers . . . being very much of a fashion plate herself in a red dress with exquisite furs . . .

Speaking of fashions and well dressed society women . . . Mrs. A. Wilder Pollard wore her ravish furs over an afternoon dress for the matinee of "De Luxe" . . . an individual note in her costume being the dark grey tulle scarf which ended in a pert bow under her chin . . . She was accompanied by Mrs. Elen C. Stanwood and Mrs. William F. A. Stride, her daughter . . .

Miss Woolley will speak from New York City on "The Woman's College in a New Day." Mount Holyoke clubs all over the country are meeting to celebrate the 125th anniversary of the birth of Mary Lyon, who founded Mount Holyoke College in 1837.

MISS MARGARET EUSTIS paused in her charitable activities at the Vincent Hospital, to relax a moment and admire the winter landscape. Miss Eustis is in the cast of this year's Vincent Club play. She is one of the season's debutantes.

Usher List

NOTHING else that has happened socially this season has stirred up quite so much entertaining and so many unusual plans as the brilliant supper dance of the Ace of Clubs, which will be held tomorrow evening at the Hotel Somerset.

The entire week has been given over in teas and parties to assist hostesses planning dinners and cocktail parties before the dance.

The usher list is unusually interesting this year, containing the names of sons of charter members and old families, including Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr., whose mother was the former Rose Fitzgerald of Boston, and founded the Ace of Clubs 24 years ago.

Also Walter Mansfield, son of Mayor and Mrs. Mansfield; Bernard Baldwin, George Battinly, Thomas Broderick, Jr., Charles E. Coibert, Frank Curry of New York, Gerard O'Brien, son of the former mayor of New York, John Drum, Jr., Frank Foley, Henry Fitzpatrick, Louis O'Malley, Francis J. Murphy, Frederick W. Sheehan, John Blatter, Leo Stanton and James Trullin.

Dr. Francis T. Jantzen, chief of ushers, with the assistance of Mrs. Vincent L. Jantzen, chairman of the usher committee, will greet the ushers over a glass of champagne in the mahogany room of the Somerset at 9 o'clock, and the old custom of wearing white gardenia will give way to the more colorful red carnations as their symbol.

Patronesses

Patronesses are Miss Alice Falvey, Miss Mary Curley, Mrs. Frederick W. Mansfield, Mrs. Frances T. Barnes, Mrs. Joseph Barry, Jr., Mrs. John Bottomley, Mrs. Thomas F. Broderick, Mrs. Frederick W. Sheehan, Mrs. Blatter, Mrs. Donnelly, Mrs. John J. Dowling, Mrs. Edward J. Fitzgerald, Mrs. George McCarthy and Mrs. Arthur O'Keefe.

Mrs. Frances T. Jantzen, of Brookline as president of the club will be assisted by Mrs. Francis L. Morton of 25 May street, Jamaica Plain, in charge of reservations with Miss Florence Hurley, general chairman of the dance.

Among the hostesses entertaining before the dance are Mrs. Joseph B. Campbell, who is giving a large buffet supper; Mrs. William A. Taylor of South Boston, also planning a buffet supper, and Mrs. Charles L. McAlister of Brookline who will give a cocktail party.

Mrs. A. McKay Fraser of the Hotel Sheraton, accompanied by Mrs. Melvin F. Hill, of Chestnut Hill and today on the Quirigua, for a three-week cruise to Havana, Kingston, Panama and Costa Rica.

ARTIST Wins Fourth PRIZE IN RUSHMORE CONTEST

By Universal Service
Los Angeles, Feb. 28—
"I'm happy because it will make my little daughter happy."

In those simple words Harry F. Radd, unemployed illustrative artist, summed up his reactions on having won fourth prize in the Hearst Rushmore Essay contest.

His entry for illustration on the historic scene depicting the natural outcropping of the mountain in nature, and one of the country, he is 34 years old, and lives at home.

First Attempt

It was his first try at a contest in competition with 1,000 other artists, and he won the fourth prize in the two-year-old contest.

He smiled as he showed a sketch of the scene to his daughter, Mary Jane, who is 16 and who is now in the eighth grade.

"I'll send the medal to my daughter, Mary Jane, in Davenport, she's 16 now and it will be one of the biggest thrills in her life, I know."

No one else has won the prize before, and he is the first to win it. He is a native of the city of Los Angeles, and he is now 34 years old.

Snow Thrills John Lodge

MRS. HENRY CABOT LODGE JOHN DAVIS LODGE

Back from Hollywood, where he is leading a life in the movie capital, John Davis Lodge, who is visiting at the Beverly Cove home of his brother, Representative Henry Cabot Lodge, can see no difference between the film capital's populace and people of any other part of the country.

Hollywood Just Folks, Says Film Star John Lodge

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

John Davis Lodge, lawyer-turned-actor grandson of the late Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who is visiting at the Beverly Cove home of his brother, Representative Henry Cabot Lodge, can see no difference between the film capital's populace and people of any other part of the country.

"Since I went to live in Hollywood I have come into intimate contact with members of the movie colony. And I can say with some little authority that most of the stories about Hollywood are, at best, only half truths."

It has been my good fortune to meet practically all the leading artists in Hollywood. I have found them to be a friendly, hard-working, and extremely honest group. They are deeply interested in their work, they are as disinterested in social affairs as any group of artists or business people in the East.

This grayhound certainly has a weebegone aspect as he mourns, in his kennel. Perhaps he has heard of the protests against dog racing hereabouts. All he wants is a bone to chew, and a warm blanket to snuggle. Fols just can't understand.

BOUTS At Southie TONIGHT

Tonight at the "Home of Action" the Irish American A. A. of South Boston, the fans will witness some of the best amateur fighters in New England.

Among them are Charles Belletti of Woburn, Andrew Roberts of Charlestown, Tony Thomas of Gardiner and Bill DeMazzone of Norwood, heavyweights; Walter Ward of Fitchburg, John Lawson of Framingham and Henry Burns of Gardiner, lightweights; Tommy Knights of East Boston, Al Kory of Newton, Robert Joyce of Boston and Raymond DeBlanc of Gardner, 120-pounders.

Jimmy McCarron was to have boxed, but had his eye cut while training and will not be able to box for two weeks.

The committee will pick some of the boys to appear in the international tournament between United States, Ireland and Canada at the Boston Garden March 28.

By Walter Kiley
Al Lacy has developed and trained many of the finest boxers in this country. A clean-cut type who has reflected great credit on the game in his training of men like Red Chapman, Fido LaBarba, Jackie Fields, Jake Zernby, Andy Calhoun, the late Ernie Schacht and Jack Sharkey.

Twice an Olympic trainer and once coach and trainer of a team from this country which boxed in the Pan-American championships at Buenos Aires, Lacy is in Chelsea, his present home city, Sept. 8, 1908. One of five brothers, he is the youngest.

Feeling around in his early years as an amateur boxer, Lacy won the N. E. welterweight championship when 18 years old, and then quitting while the time was ripe, due to his frail stature.

He was interested in training since at the age of 18 he met the man with whom he traveled all over the country for 12 years.

Lacy was a member of the boxing commission in 1928.

Went to Paris as trainer of the United States championship team in 1924.

Lacy claims was the greatest collector of boxing records in the world.

Including fields, who as a trainer, Lacy later fought with him.

Delly and Steve Halas who being other Olympic prize winners that year. In 1928 became interested in Andy Calhoun and came back from Amsterdam signed with Johnny Buckley to train Calhoun and finally all of the Buckley stable.

Had his own gym in Chelsea from 1928 to 1929 when Chapman, Calhoun, LaBarba and a host of other top notches trained. Was with Schacht in 12 of his most important bouts, twice when he knocked out Maloney. Schaaf's first fight with Lacy resulting in the worst defeat ever handed out to Max Baer, a sensational affair in which the present champion had to be led out of the ring.

Trained Sharkey for his fight with Arthur Dekin in 1928 and was with him until Sharkey retired in 1933. Sharkey refusing to fight unless Lacy was in his corner, a sensational affair in which the present champion had to be led out of the ring.

Has always paid particular attention to boxers' hands. Chapman never having an injury in 12 years with him.

Says Sharkey one of the most superstitious. Would save own left hand and Lacy the right. Has in hand more than 1000 fights. Feels that Baer has the makings of one of the greatest of all champions. That his naturally career manner and gagging is a great asset to his nervous energy so that he will last much longer.

OLYMPICS SEEKING BIG GAME

Gunning for Hershey Bars, Sea Gulls and Orioles

By Bill Grimes
Joe Gilmore, the Cub trainer, who was injured a week ago in an auto accident, is coming along nicely at the City Hospital. It will be at least a fortnight, however, before he will be permitted to return to his home.

Walter Brown, manager of the Olympic Club, is angling with the Sea Gulls of Atlantic City. Two of the New Yorkers' goals should not be charged against Tom, for on both of these tallies he was left out on a limb by his teammates.

The Flying Frenchmen have a great gunnery "Chuck" Nadeau.

Redmond Quinn, president of the St. Louis Tourists, did not improve his standing in his home town when he was named Eddie Finnigan away from the Ottawa Senators.

Irving Frew, who is battling for the Montreal City League title, especially in view of the fact that the Tourists were out of the N. H. L. play offs before Eddie turned pro.

Teddy Graham and Glenn Brown, son of the Tourists, look enough on the ice to be twins, while Irving Frew is the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde of the N. H. L.

In a hockey game, Frew is as wild, belligerent and unruly as they make out and off the ice, he is mild, gentlemanly and very likable.

St. Pete Plans Welcome

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 28.—The city where Babe Ruth has been a training hero with the Yankees for years, is thrilled about welcoming him as a member of the Braves.

There will be a reception at the train when he does get here, and under the direction of Al Lang, and one great field day to commemorate both Ruth and another local hero, Rabbit Maranville, now team mate.

Masterly Portrayal

Conrad Veidt at His Best

By JOYCE DANA

Conrad Veidt once more takes his place in the front ranks of film actors for his masterly portrayal of the title role in "The Wandering Jew," all English talking pictures which opened at the Fine Arts yesterday.

We have been led to expect great things of Veidt since his outstanding performance in "Power" and in his new and dramatic role he never once lets us down.

The film has been thrust upon the play by E. Temple Thurston and sets forth the narrative of Matthias, who apat upon the Savior at the Crucifixion, was thereafter fated to live through all the aze until he has earned forgiveness and the kind release of death.

We see him during the Crusades, an unknown knight, winning the latest lady of Antioch, a Sicilian merchant in the thirteenth century losing his child by death and his lovely young wife who seeks the truth behind convent walls. And at last we find him as the respected physician at Seville during the Inquisition, a kindly humanitarian who at last has found the truth through service and brotherhood.

Veidt's portrayal is a triumph and quite worthy of it is the splendid setting the Twickenham studios have provided for the powerful story.

Marie Ney is the lovely Judith whose death brings Matthias to revile the Nazarene. Anna Grey and Joan Maude are two of the other beautiful women whose lives are irrevocably bound to the dramatic story of the Jew, while Percy Ashurst gives an appealing and convincing performance as the Magdalene who is converted by his mobility and devotion. The story and production have been handled with consummate good taste.

An Illogical Stand Taken by Senators

THE SENATORS who forced the President's Emergency Relief Appropriation Act back to committee, by their support of the McCarran amendment, now seek to justify themselves as standing for the principle of high wages in industry.

They would have it appear that those who believe in the soundness of President Roosevelt's policy, in distinguishing between "wages" paid for relief and wages earned and paid in private industry, are against labor.

Such reasoning is utterly illogical and perverted. The Hearst newspapers have always favored high wages in industry, and do now. They do not favor the prevailing rate of wages in government-made work, which is merely a substitute for the dollar.

The advocates of union wages for "made work" might just as well advocate union wages for the dollar.

They overlook the broad difference between wages created by labor in the making of useful and salable products on the one hand, and "artificial" wages whose source is the toll and savings of others, appropriated by taxation to those who have neither toiled nor saved.

ASIDE from the injustice to most deserving class, it would be rank extravagance on the part of the government.

We strongly oppose the payment of the prevailing rate of wages in cases where the primary purpose of the government is relief. Such payment would merely make government expenditures more extravagant than they are now.

We favor an end of extravagance in ALL governmental expenditures!

If the insurgents in the Senate, who are now in an attitude of resistance to the President on the score of economy, genuinely desire to reduce economy, why do they obstruct the issue?

Why do they not make a frank and open fight for economy?

Why do they not demand that the administration adhere to the pledges of the platform on which it was elected, and balance the budget?

Why do they not demand that the President adhere to the promises of his campaign speeches and stop borrowing and end the deficit?

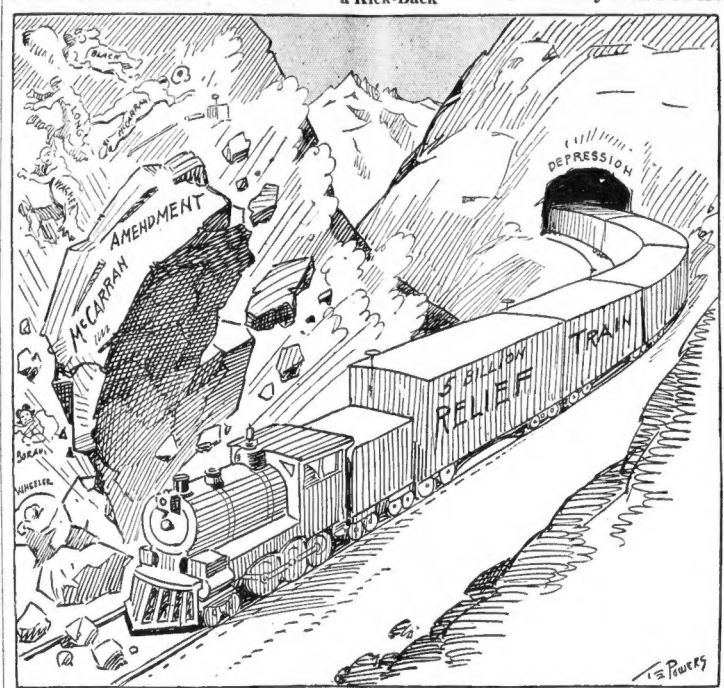

Why does not Congress, as the legislative branch of the government, who whom ALL appropriate bills originate, have the honesty and independence to determine the amount of public expenditure and COMPEL economy?

Congress apparently has the HONESTY TO DO WRONG—but NOT THE COURAGE TO DO RIGHT.

Old-Time Desperadoes Human Side of the News

By Edwin C. Hill

THE GLOBE TROTTER OF HEARST METEORITE NEWS

If we must have Robin Hood, the American frontier desperadoes of a generation ago provide a lot better material for a romantic novel than the police.

Spooky took the side of the underdog, every public fight gave money lavishly to poor people and cripples, paid their hospital bills and provided rest and food. I suppose this explained his immunity.

"Denver, at that time, had a fine law enforcement system in office, and no doubt the public knew that Spooky probably stole more than the city officials, and turned a lot of it back to charity, which the others never did."

"The Reign of Spooky Smith" fits you in on those 20 tumultuous years of Spooky's elegant life, with time called at Skagway, where a bullet wound, no doubt, ended the lurid drama of his life.

THE "CAPTAINS" WIN
The old Chisholm Trail in Texas, whence came that song of a thousand verses which now spills out of the radio these days, of Jefferson Randolph Smith, the Denver bad boy of the late eighties and nineties, was one of the gaudiest of the Western picture stars.

If you will discount the authors giving Spooky, perhaps a shade the best of it in his long and eventful career, the Western picture stars, it is a fascinating story of the last days of the great West.

BOSS OF DENVER
I am taking the rich and gave to the poor—old stuff, to be sure, but there is a touch of bravado in the man and his times which will never come again.

Sages to the Dillinger or Baby Face Nelsons of today are prophecies of the future, and make the crones of the future.

Without extolling Spooky or his assistant, however, one may say that the current hoodlums are cowardly rats in comparison with the old-time desperadoes.

"The Reign of Spooky Smith," it happened, was handed to me by an old-time newspaperman who grew up in Colorado and who, in his childhood, saw the handsome, bewildered "con" man taking the Denver year after year with his soap and water. My friend said:

Loyalty Wins New York to Keep Oath Law

THE Ives law, which requires teachers to swear allegiance to the federal constitution, will remain on the statute books of New York, where it belongs.

The Senate committee on education held a public hearing on the Ives law last Tuesday.

On the list of the vast number of loyal teachers, Dr. Edward M. Mendenhall, associate superintendent of schools in New York City, and Mrs. Anna R. Pettibone spoke against repeal, and briefs were filed for the joint committee of teachers' organizations and other groups.

Opposing the Ives law was a small group including Dr. Nicholas Niebuhr, of the Union Theological Seminary, chairman of the "academic freedom" committee of the Ultra-Radical American Civil Liberties Union; Dr. Abraham Lefkowitz, radical spokesman for the Radical Teachers' Union; three college professors; and two members of the Communist party, BOTH OF WHOM HAD BEEN EXPELLED AS TEACHERS IN NEW YORK CITY.

NO wonder Assemblyman McGrath, chairman of the committee, concluded: "This repealer must definitely will come out of committee."

Also to be noted is the fact that Assemblyman Emerson D. Fite, who is professor of political economy at VASSAR COLLEGE, upheld the Ives law as being wholly without basis of legitimate academic freedom.

This circumstance indicates that some of the other Vassar professors, and a number of the girl students, would do well to attend Professor Fite's classes and LEARN HOW TO THINK STRAIGHT on political questions.

The entire outcome of the controversy presages that the rest of the Kaminsky legislative program, directed against the schools by Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr's committee of Communist sympathizers, will go where it belongs—in the legislative garbage can.

Listen, World! By Elsie Robinson

A "NO" IS A "YES"
A "NO" is as important as a "YES."

A "NO" actually is a "YES." If you refuse to do something, you are saying "yes" to something else. You are saying "yes" to the thing you do not want to do.

There is no such thing as a "NEUTRAL" attitude. Every action, every attitude, every action, is POSITIVE.

Anything you do, or refuse to do, puts you on record. Make or mark your life as you see fit. You are saying "yes" to the thing you do not want to do.

Confession of Guilt By Hendrik Van Loon

I am not much of a professional graduate. I suppose that the same conservative streak that makes me willing to let the United States be ruled by the duly-elected and appointed authorities also bids me refrain from telling the president and the professors of my different Alma Mater how they should run their universities.

The professional graduate, at least within my own experience, only messes things up whenever he tries to tell the professors of his alma mater how they should run their universities.
